“The intercalary days are specifically set aside for hospitality, the giving of gifts, etc.”

Happy Ayyám-i-Há

“Bahá’u’lláh Himself specified that they be used this way, but gave no explanation for it ...”

“It behoveth the people of Bahá, throughout these days, to provide good cheer for themselves, their kindred and, beyond them, the poor and needy, and with joy and exultation to hail and glorify their Lord, to sing His praise and magnify His Name.”

~ Bahá’u’lláh

“Bahá’u’lláh designated those days as the Ayyám-i-Há and ordained that they should immediately precede the month of ‘Alá, which is the month of fasting. He enjoined upon His followers to devote these days to feasting, rejoicing, and charity.” ~ Universal House of Justice

Joy, happiness, helpfulness, love,
gifts, kindness

“My God, my Fire and my Light! The days which Thou hast named the Ayyám-i-Há (the Days of Há, Intercalary days) in Thy Book have begun, O Thou Who art the King of names, and the fast which Thy most exalted Pen hath enjoined unto all who are in the kingdom of Thy creation to observe is approaching. I entreat Thee, O my Lord, by these days and by all such as have during that period clung to the cord of Thy commandments, and laid hold on the handle of Thy precepts, to grant that unto every soul may be assigned a place within the precincts of Thy court, and a seat at the revelation of the splendors of the light of Thy countenance ...”

~ Bahá’u’lláh
